From The President - CHARLES MURRAY

From the president

Eventually, all of us come to the same conclusion, that is properly tuned equipment is not only safer but it also makes woodworking more enjoyable. At our last meeting Lou Gatch showed us what problems to look for and how easy it was to properly adjust and set up our jointers with just a few simple tools. Thanks Lou for giving us the benefit of your experience.

WOODWORKING UNPLUGGED

This meeting we will change directions, and go back a few hundred years to experience what woodworking was like before power tools. In the last decade or so one of the biggest growth areas in woodworking has been hand tools. Is it nostalgia, or have some come to realize the limitations of their power tools?

Originally Ron was scheduled to do this meeting; however his work schedule changed, so you're stuck with me.

I will be bringing in some of my most often used hand tools, and demonstrating their use. You may be surprised at what some of these tools can do. Often many who start using hand tools soon learn the simple quite pleasures of working wood.

WHAT IS IT?

In a change of pace for this meeting I'm inviting members to bring in their own stumper. If you have an old woodworking tool, one that you feel is unusual, or something that you just want to know more about, bring it in. There will be prizes for the best two, and you may stump us all. Remember nothing with the devil's tail allowed at this meeting.

MARK YOUR CALENDER

Meetings begin at 8:30

November 8 – Tools of yesteryear. There's a reason that the hand tools that your grandfather used have been rediscovered. Charles Murray will demonstrate some of the most useful along with his personal favorites.

January 16 – 18 The woodworking show.

January 24 – The Latest. Christopher Schwartz editor of Popular Woodworking will share his favorite tips and techniques, along with what's new.

WOCO 2008 HOLIDAY TOY PROGRAM

Christmas countdown. There are only 33 woodworking days until the Christmas banquet on December 11th at the Berwick Manor Party House. If you have not begun your toy project, don't delay!! The children of the agencies that we donate to are appreciative of the love and craftsmanship that you all have demonstrated in the past. Our toys are just not toys but the agencies tell me they become cherished heirlooms and from what I have seen they couldn't be more right. If you need wheels and/or axels just give me a call and I'll bring them to the meeting. For those members who cannot make it to the dinner please either bring your toys to the November meeting or drop them off at my house and make sure that I know your name, number of toys and what they are so that I can continue to keep accurate records of this years drive. By the way I have moved this past summer and now live at 2400 Olde Sawmill Blvd, Dublin (between Sawmill and Smokey Row). I would strongly urge those new members who have never attended our annual party to come, bring your spouse, and be prepared to have a great evening with friends and fellowship and view the spectacular array of toys. Again the five agencies who will be receiving the toys again this year are: The Salvation Army; Alpha Athletic Club; Gladden Community Center; St. Vincent Family Center; and Kids N' Kamp (children's cancer program). Again any questions please give me a call at 614 766-5935.

Chuck (The Toy Man)

VOLUNTERRING

As all of you know our organization runs with the help of individuals that want to help others. These people freely give of their time, helping the meetings run smoothly. I want everyone to think what the meetings would be like without refreshments (you can thank Ruth and Ann). Or how many of us have benefited from the classes at Ron's. To that list we can add toys, chair risers, the bills being paid, the newsletter, the audio and TV monitors and last but not least those who help set up and tear down the tables and chairs.

Our club was built by people that were generous from the heart, and now it could be your turn. Chuck is still looking for someone to take over the toy program. We also need a librarian. I would appreciate if some of you would think about it, who knows you could end up enjoying it.

Charles Murray

The Woodworking Show

The Woodworking Shows are scheduled for January 16-18, 2009 at the Ohio State Fairgrounds. Once again our club will request booth space at the show.

Our presence at the show has a dual purpose: we want to promote our club and also promote woodworking in general. The success of The Woodworking Shows is very much in our interest. Where else would we find our target audience at a single location?

We will be asking for two types of volunteers to staff the booth. We need to have club members ready to explain our club to visitors and promote membership in the club. We also need volunteers to demonstrate some type of woodworking skill. People instinctively stop to see some type of demonstration and we want to capitalize on this.

We will be passing around a sign up sheet at November's club meeting. In the past we've had an excessive number sign up for the Friday afternoon set up and too few for the remainder of the show. This year we will try to distribute the volunteers more evenly over the course of the show.

News from Wood Werks

We're back into the fall tool season and as everyone knows, things are a little slower than normal, causing some of the manufacturers to come up with some unbelievable deals. Here are two that we think are pretty special:

Delta 36-830LA 3HP 1PH left tilt (American made) Unisaw with a Delta 30" uniface. This package includes the saw and 30" fence, plus a table board and legs @$1235.00 plus tax. Probably one of the best Unisaw prices ever. After our expo we have only three of these left at this price and can't get any more.

Jet JFM-5 Mortiser. This is a floor stand H.D. mortiser not a bench top one. We've sold many of these at $1,000.00 ---- Special; only 20 available at $588.00 plus tax then a $100.00 mail in rebate and a die cast model of the machine to boot. That's a fantastic deal at an end cost of only $488.00. Only good while the supply of twenty lasts.

Check with us for other great deals. As always, THANKS for your business. Let us know how we can help with your woodworking needs.

Check out our all new web site. Ron Damon and the entire Wood Werks staff.
